ESL 086 / Note-Taking

Chapter 4: Jobs & Professions Na	me:
----------------------------------	-----

Use the information in the lecture (not your own opinions) to answer this question. Your answer should be about four to six sentences long. Write complete sentences. Do not copy any sentences from the textbook.

[4 points total]

What is the difference between manufacturing jobs and service jobs? Give two examples of each type of job. [4 examples total]

Chapter Four: Vocabulary Review

PART ONE: Match the expressions from page 77 to the words that logically go with them to make a sentence. [5]

1.	Jeff's not in the mood to see	e a movie, so		he refused to give Jeff any more money.
2.	2. Jeff's a musician, so he spends a lot of time 3. Jeff's old job was the worst , so			he has to work hard.
3.				he is going to stay home and read a book instead.
Jeff's dad is supporting his wife and children, soJeff complained about his father because			(d)	he's glad he's not doing is anymore.
٥.	. Self complained dood his father occase		(e)	practicing the guitar.
PART TWO: Match the vocabulary words from page 83 with their examples. [10]
1.	automation g	(a) 1^{st} , 2^{nd} , 3^{rd} , etc.
	a category	(b) both Starbucks and Dunkin' E buy their coffee	ikin' Donuts try to get customers to a competition	(c) building new cars
	health carean illness	(d) doctors treat patients in a hosp	ients in a hospital
	labor costs	(e) fruit: apple, pear, banana, pea	n have been working outside the home ble) build cars in a factory
7.	manufacturing	(f) more and more women have be over the past 30 years
8.	a rank	(g) robots (instead of people) buil
9.	a service	(h) salaries for the employees in a
10.	. a trend	(i) the flu, a cold
		(j) waiting on customers in a dep	artn	nent store		